

SPRINT

NEWSLETTER OCTOBER 2014

New sponsor underlines RigRun's growing appeal

RigRun® was delighted to announce earlier this year that international oilfield service company, Petrofac agreed to become RigRun's main sponsor for the 2014 summer and 2015 winter games.

And a number of their employees excelled during the latest competition, GOAL!

Petrofac achieved some great personal results as well as contributing to the GOAL! tallies of its participating installations.

In particular, Barry Mowat, Senior Rotating Equipment Engineer on Forties Alpha, achieved a gold medal for top treadmill miles and Michael Taggart, Electrical Foreman on Forties Bravo, achieved gold for top miles on the rowing machine.

Congratulations to both of you and thanks again to Petrofac for its sponsorship.

GOAL! 2014 a surefire winner It all kicked off this summer...

AS RigRun® gets bigger and bigger, GOAL! 2014 was our first truly global event where installations across the world competed against each other to be crowned world champions.

GOAL! 2014 captured the fervour of the World Cup and achieved the highest number of participants in the three year history of RigRun®. Thanks to all those who took part and a big thank you to all the medics who helped to make the challenge such a success.

We are issuing more prizes than ever with a total of 18 overall prizes plus each installation will issue 12 individual prizes - this is on top of the participation prizes that have already been distributed throughout the competition! This represents a whopping 3,500 prizes for this event alone!

580,456
TOTAL MINUTES

117,107
RIGRUN® MILES!

2,323
TOTAL PARTICIPANTS

Be a winner in 2015's challenge – beginning February 6th!

RigRun 2014 raises over £12,000 for charity

One of the most gratifying aspects of RigRun® is the amount of money raised for charities. Donations for our winter promotion, Win14, and this year's summer event, GOAL! raised over £12,000.

Win14 winners, Fulmar (Talisman) donated £6,020 to a large number of local and national charities.

Winners

GOAL! 2014 winners, Maersk Resolute, donated £6,000 to Ronald McDonald House in Denmark.

With Maersk being a Danish company it seemed only fitting for the RigRun® winners to support a local charity in Denmark.

Ronald McDonald House was established in 2002 to provide a safe base where a family can be together while a child is hospitalized. The house allows families to support both a sick child and each other during such difficult times. Since opening, Ronald McDonald House has provided more than 1,300 families with a temporary home while their children were treated in hospital.

Nearly £20,000 has been distributed to local and national charities by offshore workers from the winning installations since RigRun® began three years ago. RigRun® will continue to provide fun events for participants to raise money for worthy causes.

STENA ICEMAX crew hard at work in the gym....
Great competition and great way to get the industry more active...

Action from around the rigs...

Above: Thanks to James Doyle of the Claymore Alpha (Talisman Sinopec) for his winning Team Picture, giving him the RigRun Team Captain Prize.

Right: The Resolute Warriors number one contestant Colin MacDonald cranking up some more miles for the team. Well done!

Bottom: The Hanze (Dana Petroleum) team working their socks off during the World Cup.

Since 2012 nearly 7,000 RigRunners have covered 389,925

Hard work and discipline, the name of the game!

It's great to see how RigRun® has captured the imagination of so many offshore workers. We had over 2,300 participants and a record number of RigRun® miles.

We loved hearing about the exploits of participants through our Facebook page and thank you to all for posting team photographs and line ups. We notice that the traditional 4-4-2 formation is still a firm favourite!

And what about the keepie-up challenge? Thanks for posting all the videos, unbelievable tekkers!

It was great to read the Facebook post 'Even the Resilient's HR is getting involved with the "GOAL" Challenger cup final'. That just summed up for us the sense of competition and teamwork that GOAL! delivered this summer.

And to cap it all, the level of sportsmanship was of the highest standard and not one yellow or red card was issued during the entire competition. A fantastic result so thanks to the medics and team captains.

GOAL! 2014 – Player of the Tournament

There were some fantastic players that emerged during GOAL! and we were hard pushed to name a 'player of the tournament'.

However, there was one world class performer. Lewis Hillier of Beryl Bravo (Apache) who also won the overall top rower award was recognised by the RigRun® team for outstanding achievement.

Sadly before the start of this summer's RigRun® event one of Lewis' close friends on the installation passed away in a car accident - a keen rower himself, he had previously stated that he hoped to achieve the most miles on the rower in the competition.

As a tribute to his friend, Lewis took up the challenge himself and has worked extremely hard throughout the competition to achieve the title of winning rower with a fantastic 253 miles!

Our thoughts go out to the Beryl Bravo and Lewis for their loss of a great friend, and we would like to thank Lewis for his dedication and hard work during this summer's RigRun®. A truly inspirational story.

Some of the winners in GOAL! 2014

RigRun® Champions Cup Winners - Resolute (Maersk Drilling)

RigRun® Challenge Shield Winners - Resilient (Maersk Drilling)

Golden Boot Winner - Darren Merritt - IceMAX (Stena Drilling)

Keepie Uppie Challenge Winner - Kris Downing
- Resilient (Maersk Drilling)

TOP MALE MILES - ELITE SQUAD

JAMES HUME - Beryl Alpha & Forties Charlie (Apache) 2040 miles

TOP MALE MINUTES - ELITE SQUAD

JAMES HUME - Beryl Alpha & Forties Charlie (Apache) 4646 minutes (77 hours!)

TOP MALE MILES - CHALLENGE SQUAD

GORDON MORAN - Gryphon (Maersk Oil)

TOP MALE MINUTES - CHALLENGE SQUAD

KENNETH JOHANSEN - Resolute (Maersk Drilling)

TOP FEMALE MILES - ELITE SQUAD

KAY BINGHAM - Beryl Bravo (Apache) 800 miles

TOP FEMALE MINUTES - ELITE SQUAD

KAY BINGHAM - Beryl Bravo (Apache) 2022 minutes

TEAM CAPTAIN PRIZE

JAMES DOYLE - Claymore Alpha (Talisman Sinopec)

Team manager prize

Xander van Heesch - Dana Petroleum

"The organisation for RigRun® on board the Hanze is done by our Rig Manager Xander Van Heesch. He motivated a lot of 'sporters' and 'non-sporters' to participate in RigRun®. Unfortunately a few weeks before the start of RigRun® he broke his neck in a mountain bike accident. He is paralyzed from his neck and will not be able to have a normal life anymore. All on board are working extra hard now. We will dedicate all the goals, minutes and prizes to Xander Van Heesch, our Rig Manager.

"We've made Xander the team manager. All personnel signed their name on the shirt. The team manager tee-shirt was sent to the rehabilitation centre where he's staying right now."

miles ... 3000 hours, 125 days or just over 4 months.

How did your rig do? The results are in.

What you said about RigRun®

“...we are seeing so many new faces to the gym. I applaud you for the drive this has given everyone on-board.”

– Medic email

“Stena IceMAX crew hard at work in the GOM ... Great competition and great way to get the industry more active ...”

– Facebook post

“If I had to compare all of the previous RigRuns, this to me has created the biggest buzz so far. The whole rig is talking about it, when do we get the results? Have you done your hour yet?”

– Medic email

Pipped at the post

The popularity of RigRun® was recognised at this year’s Oil & Gas UK Industry Safety Awards where RigRun® was a finalist in the category, ‘Award for Health’ which recognises an individual, team or company who has taken steps to actively improve the health of its workforce, with clearly demonstrable positive effects.

We just missed out this time but were delighted to have been recognised. We’ll be back, possibly next year, with an even more impressive case thanks to an event that just keeps on growing.

RigRun 2015... well worth a TRY!

For our winter promotion we move from the round ball to the oval one. Well worth a TRY starts on February 6th 2015 at the same time as the Six Nations championship. So we’ve adopted a rugby theme for our winter games.

It’s the same format as our previous events where installations throughout the world compete against each other in the gym to score as many tries as possible to lift the ultimate prize at the end of the competition.

It runs from 6th February to 20th March 2015 so get your installation signed up and tackle the rest of the globe to win the RigRun® global winter challenge 2015. Make sure your installation signs up by 5th December to participate.

